HISTORY

The Columbia Football Association is beginning its 14th season this fall. Current members include Central Washington, Western Washington, Simon Fraser, Western Oregon, Southern Oregon and Humboldt State.

All but Humboldt State are charter members of the association which was formed in 1985 when the 14 football-playing schools in the Pacific Northwest combined into one league.

Two schools later dropped football - Pacific following the 1991 season and Oregon Tech following the 1992 season. The conference shrunk to six teams in 1996 when the six members of the Northwest Conference elected to withdraw from the CFA to form their own football league.

In 1997, Eastern Oregon elected to withdraw from the CFA to compete as an independent, but at the same time Humboldt State, a NCAA Division II school in Arcata, Calif., joined the CFA.

Currently two conference teams - Western Washington and Humboldt State - compete at the NCAA Division II level. Central Washington will join the NCAA for football next season and Western Oregon is also moving in that direction.

Pending NCAA legislation to allow Canadian schools membership, Simon Fraser is also hoping to move its program to the NCAA in the near future. Southern Oregon currently has opted to maintain membership in the NAIA.

CFA teams have won four NAIA national titles - Linfield in 1986, Pacific Lutheran in 1987 and 1993 and Central Washington in 1995. Five other times CFA teams have lost in the championship game.

GARY FREDERICK

Athletic Director, 18th Year

Gary Frederick, who has been Central Washington's athletic director since Sept., 1980, was inducted into the NAIA Hall-of-Fame last October at the NAIA National Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

Frederick is in his 18th year as CWU's athletic director. He was selected the NAIA National Administrator of the Year for the 1987-88 year.

During Frederick's tenure at CWU, he helped develop the Wildcat athletic program into one of the top NAIA small-college programs in the country. Now under Frederick's leadership, the university will move its athletic program into the PacWest Conference and NCAA Division II affiliation beginning this fall.

For 10 consecutive years between 1982-83 and 1991-92, CWU was ranked in the Top 8 in the NAIA Men's All-Sports competition. Central won the 1986-87 men's all-sports title.

Frederick, 60, has a long affiliation with Central. After graduating from Raymond High School in 1955 where he was all-conference in football, basketball and baseball, he enrolled here.

He lettered in football three years (1956-58) and earned second team all-conference honors in 1957 and first team honors in 1958 at offensive center.

He graduated in 1959 with a bachelor of arts degree in education and later earned a masters in physical education from Central and a doctorate in secondary education from the University of Idaho in 1974.

Frederick coached basketball and baseball at Thorp High School (1959-60); football, basketball and track at Waitsburg High School (1960-63) and football and baseball at Central Kitsap (1963-67) before returning to Ellensburg in 1967.

From 1967 until 1983, he served as an assistant football coach and was head baseball coach from 1968 until 1978 when he resigned to take over the chairmanship of the physical education department.

He gave up the that job when he was named to succeed Adrian "Bink" Beamer as athletic director in the fall of 1980.

Frederick is CWU's winningest baseball coach. In 11 seasons his teams won 234 games and lost 147 and qualified for the NAIA College World Series in 1968 and 1970. Three times (1969, 1970 and 1971) he was named District 1 Coach-of-the-Year.

Frederick also served as CWU's women's basketball coach between 1983 and 1993. In 11 seasons, his teams won 164 games and lost 146 and twice (1986 and 1988) he was named District 1 Coach-of-the-Year. In the 1987-88 season, he led CWU to a 31-5 overall record and its only District 1 title.

For the past three springs, Frederick has served the university as its women's softball coach, compiling a record of 43-56.

Frederick was on sabbatical during the 1993-94 school year and served the NAIA as its interim Director of Championship Events.

NAIA PLAYOFF FORMAT

The NAIA, which has had two divisions in football since 1990, reverted back to a one division set last season.

The championship series will include 16 teams. Automatic berths are awarded to champions in NAIA football conferences, including the Columbia Football Association.

A team, however, must be ranked in the Top 20 in the final NAIA national poll to claim its automatic berth. In addition teams may also qualify as at-large entries if they are ranked high enough in the final poll.

Only four teams in the CFA - Central Washington, Simon Fraser, Southern Oregon and Western Oregon - will be eligible for the NAIA playoffs. Humboldt State and Western Washington will compete as NCAA Division II independents.

ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICANS

Since the NAIA Academic All-American awards program was initiated in 1982, a total of 12 Central Washington University football players have won 14 certificates. That is more than in any other sport at CWU except swimming.

Larry Bellinger and Jeff Nordstrom became the first two-time All-Americans in 1993 and 1994. Andy Lwanga earned Academic All-American honors in 1995.

Winners of the academic award have also included defensive back Mark Bergsma and defensive tackle Tim DeGross in 1983, linebacker Dennis Edwards in 1984, wide receiver Mark Robinson, defensive back and punt return specialist Ron Nelson and running back Ed Watson in 1986, offensive lineman Wayne Kilburn in 1987 and linebacker Eric Granberg and defensive tackle Alan Kesti in 1989.

In addition to being named to the Academic All-American team, DeGross and Bellinger were selected the District 1 Scholar-Athletes for football in 1983 and 1993, respectively. That program was disbanded following the 1993 season.

Tight end Rod Handley, who now works for the national office of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, was selected to COSIDA's Academic All-American squad in 1981.

Central Washington University

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Central Washington University was founded on the premise "Docendo Discimus," by teaching we learn, conveying the reality that learning is interactive and those involved in the process of learning are interconnected.

The university is committed to teaching as the means to facilitate learning. All members of the university community support a relationship between teacher and student, which makes both partners in learning, scholarship, research, creative expression and the application of knowledge to solve human and societal problems.

Established in 1891, CWU is one of six state-supported institutions offering baccalaureate and graduate degrees. On the university's 350 acre campus are 22 academic buildings housing more than 150 classrooms.

Points of interest include a botanical greenhouse, an arboretum, a Japanese garden, an arts complex housing the Spurgeon Gallery, McConnell Auditorium, Tower Theatre and the Hertz Music Performance Hall plus Tomlinson Stadium and Nicholson Pavilion. The latter two are the home sites for the Wildcat football and basketball teams.

In addition, due for completion this fall are a new 80,000 square-foot state of the art science facility and a $30-million renovation of Black Hall.

Originally known as Washington State Normal School, the institution became Central Washington College of Education in 1937, Central Washington State College in 1961 and Central Washington University in 1977.

CWU is located in Ellensburg, a rural community of approximately 13,000 people. Ellensburg is near the geographical center of the state, about 110 miles east of Seattle and within easy driving distance of all the cultural, scenic and recreational areas of the state.

The city lies in an irrigated valley dotted with ranches and farms at the base of the Cascade Mountains. Outdoor activities abound. The city is noted for its rodeo and the area boasts of hiking, skiing, fishing and hunting.

Ellensburg is involved with Central and cares about the students who contribute to the diversity and success of the community.

DR. IVORY NELSON

University President, 7th Year

Dr. Ivory Nelson was appointed Central Washington University's 11th president in Jan., 1992.

Nelson, 63, a 33-year veteran of leadership at every level of higher education - research universities, four-year schools and two-year schools - headed the five-campus Alamo Community College District in San Antonio, Tex., for the previous six years before becoming CWU's president.

Nelson earned his Ph.D. in analytical chemistry at the University of Kansas. His undergraduate degree in secondary education and chemistry is from Grambling State.

He took the helm of the San Antonio community college district in 1986 and guided it through several severe state budget cutbacks.

Prior to 1986, Nelson worked 18 years as an administrative leader and chemistry professor in the Texas A&M university system. He served three years as executive assistant to the chancellor of that four-university system, as well as one year as acting president of Prairie View A&M.

Nelson also served as vice-president for research and special programs and as assistant dean of academic affairs at Prairie View.

During the 1960s he worked as a chemistry professor and chairman of the division of natural sciences at Southern University, Shreveport, La., and as a chemistry professor at Southern University, Baton Rouge, La.

Inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa honor society at the University of Kansas, Nelson won a Fulbright lectureship in chemistry to the Universidad Autonoma de Guadalajara in 1966. He received a DuPont teaching fellowship at the University of Kansas in 1962.

Author of numerous publications on analytical chemistry and on the role of university research, teaching and public service, he has been active in professional and community projects and organizations.

Nelson and his wife, Dr. Patricia Nelson, have four grown children.

NCAA

Beginning this year, except in football and baseball, Central will compete at the NCAA Division II level. Football will make the move next fall.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association is the organization through which the nation's colleges and universities speak and act on athletics matters at the national level. It is a voluntary association of more than 1,200 institutions, conferences, organizations and individuals devoted to the sound administration of intercollegiate athletics.
